++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Persistent rain at first, easing through the afternoon.

Today:

A band of rain, heavy at times, will move across the country through the morning. Turning brighter by the afternoon, though slow moving showers developing, some heavy with hail and thunder. Staying breezy towards coastal locations and feeling rather cool. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:

Frequent showers continuing through the night, some heavy with the risk of hail and thunder. Winds remaining generally light, but staying breezy towards the coast. Staying fairly mild. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Sunday:

An unsettled start to the morning, with frequent heavy showers. However, it should become drier and brighter as the day progresses though the risk of some heavy showers remains. Breezy. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:

Unsettled weather continuing through into next week with scattered showers on Monday, becoming more isolated Tuesday, giving sunny spells before a heavy band of rain moves across the country Wednesday.
